

TUITION.IO

Your new employee resource for help managing student loan debt.

If you have student loans, this new program is for you!

We've partnered with Tuition.io to help employees and their family members achieve student loan debt forgiveness quicker. Starting April 3, employees can contact Tuition.io for:

- Student Loan Coaching
- Assistance with Public Service Loan Forgiveness (PSLF)
- College Loan Calculators and help planning for future student loans
- An online platform to organize your student loan information

Who should contact Tuition.io?

Employees who...

- ✓ Have student loan debt
- ✓ Have children or a spouse who has student loan debt
- ✓ Are considering student loans for themselves or their family
- ✓ Have already contacted HR and/or Thomas & Company about PSLF

Having student loan debt is a burden.

Whether you have student loans now or might have them in the future, we know that many of you are impacted by the financial strains that come with earning a college education. That's why we're excited to help alleviate some of this stress for you.

We've partnered with Tuition.io to make things easier.

When you sign up for Tuition.io, you'll have access to knowledge and tools that will help you manage and, over time, eliminate your student loan debt. If you're the parent of college-bound children, Tuition.io will help you find ways to save and pay for their education.
